

Summary

Editorial

Dragoş Iliescu

International Guidelines for Test Use. The description of a much expected document (romanian) / 7

Dragoş Iliescu

International Guidelines for Test Use. The description of a much expected document (english) / 11

Studies and research

Dragoş Iliescu, Alexandra Ilie

The relationship between Occupational Stress and Emotional Intelligence. A study based on two Emotional Intelligence assessment instruments / 15

Laurenţiu P. Maricuţoiu

The optimization of Signaling Errors ways in Human-Computer Interaction / 30

Anca-Maria Lazăr, Claudia Lenuţa Rus

Examining Type A Behavior proportion in the relationship between Occupational Stressors and Stress Reactions in police work / 43

Daniela Vercellino

Psychometric features of the Romanian version of the Holland vocational survey / 57

Dongo Rémi Kouabenan, Mihaela Calatan, Marc Gandit, Sandrine Caroly

Behaviors and Causal Explanations of Road-Tunnel Users During a Fire / 69

Methodology

Marian Popa

The „Unreliability“ of the Cronbach alpha reliability coefficient / 85

Human Resources Management Practice

Delia Vîrga

Transforming HR: Implementing HR Service Delivery in a multinational company / 100

Reviews

Alexandra Negut

Jonathan Houdmont, Stavroula Leka (eds.), Contemporary Occupational Health Psychology. Global perspectives on research and practice, vol. 1, West Sussex, UK: Wiley-Blackwell, 2010 / 107

Laura Mohorea

Marold Wosnitza, Stuart A. Karabernick, Anastasia Efklides, Peter Nenniger (eds.), Contemporary Motivation Research. From Global to Local Perspectives, Cambridge, MA: Hogrefe & Huber Publications, 2009 / 108

Lucia Ratiu

Gladeana McMahon, Anne Archer (eds.), 101 Coaching Strategies and Techniques, London and New York: Routledge Taylor & Francis Group, 2010 / 111

Silvia Rusu

Richard W. Robins, R. Chris Fraley, Robert F. Krueger (eds.), Handbook of Research Methods in Personality Psychology, New York: The Guilford Press, 2007 / 113